Grover Cason, president of the Grayling Sportsmen's Club was the speaker at Monday night's regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held at the Lone Pine Inn.

He described the type of a dinner place mat that would be made from the sign for the use of businesses trading with the tourist. The next project of the club is to attempt to erect a log building in the city for the use of the club for meetings and also for any other group that may care to use it. It is hoped to make a community center out of it and possibly keep a person there at all times to give out information to the traveling public.

The club hopes to get the project underway within the next few weeks, the speaker said. A question and answer and discussion period followed the talk.

Illinois 33rd Division Starts Long Trek To Home Base

Ohio Airmen In 2nd Week of Training

The 9,000 officers and men of Illinois' 33rd "Prairie" Division and the 178 Regimental Combat Team were beginning to break camp and start the long trek to their home bases in and around Chicago.

Overnight bivouacs and field problems highlighted their second and final week of training at Camp Grayling as the weather continued an in and out procedure from fair to not so fair.

The Division's howitzer and mortar crews were given stiff workouts and the resulting heavy explosions rocked the city of Grayling and environs from time to time throughout the week. The Illinois guardsmen leave Grayling after making an excellent impression as soldiers.

Late last week the civilian soldiers were given a close air support schooling which consisted of four hours of films and classroom work. The Rialto Theater was used for the showing of the films. Following this they were given an actual demonstration by members of the regular Army Air Force flying P-51's. It contained the dropping of the dreaded napalm or jellied gasoline bombs, high explosives and anti-personnel bombs. The aircraft also demonstrated the use of heavy machine guns and rockets to aid in the protection of front line troops by supporting aircraft.

Major General George F. Ferry, commanding general for Illinois Guardsmen was high in his praise of Camp Grayling and the training facilities that are offered. Late last week it was announced that Camp Grayling would be established as the permanent summer training site for the Illinois and Indiana National Guards as well as the Michigan 48th Division.

As the 33rd Division made preparations to return home, the 121st Fighter Wing of the Ohio Air National Guard entered their second week of training. The Wing was flying daily firing and bombing missions to the Osceola bombing and firing range and expected a heavy air defense problem to be thrown at them during their final week of maneuvers. Ground crews of the fighter wing were hard at work keeping planes in the air, fueled and loaded with munitions. Other groups carried on the usual work of communications, weather observation and the hundred and one tasks with the operation of a fighter wing.

The Indiana 38th "Cyclone" National Guard Division will enter Camp Grayling for two weeks of field training on July 22. An advance detail of the Division will probably arrive during next week to orient themselves to the operation of the camp and the placement of units.

Camp Grayling is serviced from the Grayling automatic exchange with local pay stations direct to the Roscommon long distance exchange. In addition, there are two pay stations at the Grayling McNamara Air Base, where the 121st Fighter Wing of the Ohio Air National Guard is in training. The presence of 10,000 troops in the area has caused an increase of from a normal 800 daily long distance calls to approximately 1,200 calls originating in the Roscommon area.

This represents the first stage of a program to provide adequate local and long distance service from Roscommon through the summer months while three National Guard Divisions train at Camp Grayling. Among those assisting at the Roscommon exchange are: Mrs. Lynn Mielke of the South Haven Exchange, a traffic supervisor and eight operators Mrs. Melba Doty, South Haven, Miss Betty Shirley Alma, Miss Patricia Streng, Mount Pleasant; Misses Zeldia and Diane Baughman, both of Gaylord and Misses Janette McCormick, Loretta and Leona Hazen, all of Adrian.

A Moral Force

"The tumult and the shouting dies,
The Captains and the Kings depart. . ."
So wrote Kipling long ago, in one of the most memorable of English poems. And those two lines certainly apply symbolically to the great debate over our Far Eastern policy, which began with the MacArthur testimony, and continued with Marshall, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Acheson, Wedemeyer and others. The hot excitement that swept the country has largely cooled. The leaders have been heard. But the tremendous problems remain.

In a recent column, Holmes Alexander, the commentator on Washington affairs, wrote, "The one sure mistake that anybody can make is to offer simplifications of the matter. That is where President Truman and General MacArthur both went wrong, the former in defending administration policy and the latter in condemning it. You cannot wrap up a complicated subject in easy-to-remember phrases." In the cold, unflinching light of history, just about everybody who had anything to do with Eastern policy was wrong and Roosevelt made the basic mistake at Yalta, when, following his advisors, he gave the Soviet important concessions in and about China. Following that, Truman, MacArthur Marshall and all the others made major mistakes. All of them made one outstanding mistake in common, when, apparently, they thought that there was small chance of Red China involving herself in the Korean war.

In some respects, the testimony of General Wedemeyer was the most positive and interesting of all. General Wedemeyer was a prophet of a high order—the report he made after his 1947 mission to China, which was recently released after being classified "secret" for years, forecast much that has happened. Now Wedemeyer thinks that we are making a ghastly mistake in spending our manpower and resources in Korea. In his own words, "I don't believe we are getting at the right enemy at all." In his view, the real enemy is Russia and its time we faced up to that fact and took appropriate action—even though that action would involve a calculated risk of all-out global war. He would have us break off relations with Russia and the satellite countries and establish economic blockades around their areas.

Then he said one more thing which was not nearly so widely reported as were his views on the military phase of the struggle. He said that we must also use moral force. Of this, David Lawrence wrote, "The most important recommendation of all . . . was General Wedemeyer's proposal that the United States organize its psycho-social warfare on a broad scale. This means the pledge of economic help to our friends, the communication to the peoples of Russia of the truth about American intentions, and the sending of military missions to all those countries, large and small, whose armies could possibly form a part of the defense of the free world. . . . Surely the genius of America in the field of communication should be given the chance to demonstrate what has long been believed by many of us—that moral force can be of greater value than military force

How to make Wise Tracks to a Beauty

How do you buy a new car?

Are you one of those people who buy on love at first sight?

Or do you check cars feature for feature, price for price—then pick the one that gives you the most for your money?

Whichever you are, we'd like to suggest that you come in and see our 1951 Buicks.

It's a sure bet you'll go for the swift, smart look of a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—fall seriously in love with the pace and power of its bonnet-filling engine.

And it's a cinch you'll go for the room and richness of those Buick interiors—the serene smoothness of Dynaflo Drive* and all-coil springing.

But don't let your emotion be the only judge—get the practical picture too.

Note that the power that gives you such a big kick here comes from Buick's famed valve-in-head Fireball Engine—which means you get a lot of miles from each gallon of gas you buy.

Note that the silken ease you enjoy with Dynaflo* goes hand in hand with real money savings in maintenance costs.

Above all, note what a Buick's price tag includes—how much more sheer automobile you get in a Buick than the same money would buy elsewhere.

How about making tracks to our showroom right soon—checking thoroughly into the matter—and see if you don't fall in love with a smart-buy Buick?

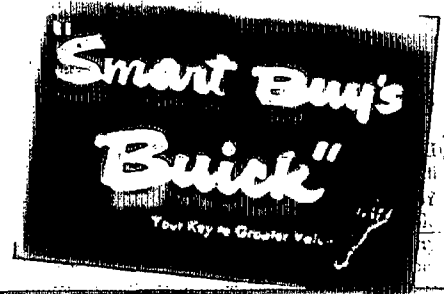

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Might Say
The Birds Got "Nettled"

Had dinner with Tik Bradley the other day, and over a frosty bottle of beer I found out about his job with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"Now just exactly what do you do?" I asked him. "Shoot birds with a cannon" he calmly replies.

Seems they actually do use a cannon to shoot out a net over a flock of birds feeding on the ground. The birds start to take off at the sound of the shot, but the setting net brings them back to earth. Then they're banded around the leg so more can be learned about their migratory habits. Afterwards, they're let loose—and everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it was a good example of how when you learn the real facts they're often not as bad as they may sound at first. Like with people. Get to really know your neighbor and chances are you'll be more tolerant of his preferences—even though they're not your own. Take a good look, before you jump to conclusions.

"Now - Take It Easy!"

"Basically, the failure to recognize the difference between a calculated risk and a needless, foolish risk is the factor that contributes to the death of thousands of motorists every year!" Sheriff William F. Golinick told the Avalanche today.

The motorist who travels at high speeds, he said, either feels that he is running no risk at all, or feels that the risk is negligible. Both ideas are false Sheriff Golinick said.

"At Bonneville, Utah," he said, "John R. Cobb, in 1947, attained a new land speed record—403 miles an hour. The dangers involved in driving a vehicle at a greater than six miles per minute almost stagger the imagination. To Cobb, however, this was a carefully calculated risk. The test was carefully supervised, the course was closely examined for surface smoothness and the vehicle was as mechanically near perfection as possible."

"The result was," Sheriff Golinick said, "that Cobb was courting death no more than any of us who drives 40 miles an hour when the visibility is bad, the highway wet and slippery, or when our tires are thread-bare."

Sheriff Golinick continued his discussion of speed by claiming that the simple process of driving three blocks to the grocery store is a calculated risk.

Security Benefits Here Hit $4,000 Monthly

Monthly Social Security benefits totaling $4,053 were paid to 109 residents of Crawford County during February, 1951, the last month for which complete figures are available, William E. LaRock, Manager of the Traverse City office of the Social Security Administration announced today. Included in his figure was $2,900 paid to 63 retired workers over 65; the balance was paid to dependent of retired workers or surviving relatives of workers who have died.

Benefits totaling $177,345 were paid to 5,247 residents of the 15 counties served by the Traverse City social security office in February, Mr. LaRock said, but many people are losing their payments because of failure to claim them. Benefits paid under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act are not automatic; an application must be filed with the Social Security Administration before payment can be made, and back payments are limited to three months before the application is filed.

The figures given for this area include only payments which were actually made, Mr. LaRock said. Many other persons who were entitled to payments did not receive benefits in February because they earned over $50 in employment covered by social security. While there is no limit to the amount of earnings for a beneficiary over 75 years old, benefits for persons under 75 are stopped for months when their earnings exceed $50.

Mr. LaRock pointed out that social security benefits are not based on the needs of the recipient, but are insurance payments which are paid for by the worker and his employer.

It's Good for You!

These are days to try the mettle of a man. There's his world to worry about—his country—his business—his family. And there are his own hopes and aspirations.

And, yet, a man must go on. Everything he plans for demands a tilt to his head and a lit to his spirits.

And that's where his Cadillac comes into the picture—for here, beyond all question, is one of the world's great therapeutics for a world-weary man.

Just to look at it, in the driveway, is an inspiration—proud, beautiful, eager and substantial.

And, oh, how you rest when it takes to the highway!

There's the deep-throated lullaby of its powerful engine; there's the soothing, restful, relaxing ride; and there's the soft swish of the wind as it flows past the streamlined body. Men look forward to it throughout the day.

We have it on the word of a great statesman, and a great surgeon, and a great general—and simply thousands of others who are weary with the heavy burden of things as they are—that the hour at the wheel of a Cadillac is the relaxing one of the twenty-four.

So there you have the prescription. Better come in and see us today—and arrange to have it filled.
